

Land Use Brownbag Series

a part of National Environmental Education Week

Introduction to

Computer Tools for Planning, Conservation, and Environmental Protection

Monday, April 11
GEF2 in G09
11:45 to 12:30

As part of National Environmental Education Week (April 10th -16th), the Science Information Services Section is launching a series of brown bag training sessions focused on "Computer Tools for Planning, Conservation, and Environmental Protection." These sessions are part of a larger effort to increase awareness of Internet resources available to local governments, citizen planners, and DNR staff. Computer tools can empower and enhance the abilities of those responsible for caring for the future of Wisconsin's resources.

Upcoming brownbag sessions

April 15
Easy-to-use Internet Mapping and Data Access Tools

May 9
Selected Watershed
Management Tools